

Scarborough Rapid Transit

Effective September 3, 2000

The capacity of the line will be improved at all times of the week. During the morning peak periods from Monday to Friday, the running time will be reduced and new operating procedures will be introduced to reduce the time required at the terminals. Service will be improved from every 3 min 50 s to every 3 min 30 s. During the afternoon peak period from Monday to Friday, the running time will be reduced and one train will be added, and the service will be improved from every 4 min 36 s to every 3 min 40 s. At all other times, the running time will be reduced, and the service will be improved from every 5 min 45 s to every 5 min 30 s.

During the peak periods these changes will increase the capacity of the service, but not enough to deal with the present overcrowding, nor to accommodate all of the customers who would prefer to ride the Scarborough RT but who are now using bus services in the area as an alternative. To accommodate more customers, an express bus service will be introduced during the peak periods from Monday to Friday between Kennedy Station and Scarborough Centre Station, on the 131 Nugget route.
